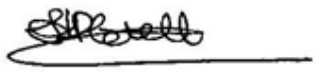
Re: Dental Council: Infection Prevention and Control Practice Standard Consultation

The Australian Dental and Oral Health Therapists' Association praises the Dental Council of New Zealand's review of its Infection Prevention and Control Practice Standard. ADOHTA appreciates the opportunity to comment on the standard.

ADOHTA believes the document to be well structured, informative and comprehensive. There is clarity for oral health practitioners with clear separation of the minimum standards related to infection prevention and control. The standards are supported by compliance measures that describe the actions and behaviour that enable practitioners to meet the minimum standards.

Yours Sincerely



Hellene Platell
