In relation to Team Management, due to the long wait for COVID-19 test results, practices can be without staff for a number of days which they await tests. Would it be acceptable for practices to use PCR tests with staff to monitor unwell staff, rather than have them at home awaiting a test. Loss of staff for 2 or 3 days is hugely disruptive to the practice and patient welfare. The current proposal that all unwell staff must stay home is very difficult to manage unless COVID-19 testing is more readily available and can be turned around within an few hours.
